Excerpt: . . . and Commonwealths have so often rejected, shall indeed and at last be accepted as the chief cornerstone. The Ethical Record. 61 Keeping Ebristmas. The three great festivals of the year, --Easter, Thanksgiving, and Christmas, --are all of them essentially festivals of joy. They are, therefore, the touchstones of our spiritual health; for there is no surer test of that health than ones capacity for joy. The up-welling of joy in the heart is the up-welling of the very spirit of life; the very rhythm and rhyme of the world, beating full in the heart of man; the sign and assurance of his being in harmony with the music to which the world moves. It is at Christmas that this tide of the years joy is at the full. No festal season is so rich in its varied expressions of gladness; song and story, rite and symbol, frolic and revel. So universally are the peoples of the Western world caught in the sweep of its gladness, that it becomes, of all the festivals of the year, the one that most grandly expresses the largest interests and hopes of the race; mans mingled love and gratitude and good will, his worship of nature, his human enthusiasms and adorations, and, above all, his tribute to childhood, his tender glorification of the child and the childlike. In Christmas mingle the mythologies and the legendary lore, the scenes and the genius, of many races and lands. Here North and South,...
