Reviews

The book is great and fantastic. It is written in straightforward words and phrases rather than difficult to understand. You won't really feel monotony at any time of your respective time (that's what catalogues are for regarding should you question me).

Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Pursuant to a congressional request, GAO assessed the effectiveness of the Departments of Health and Human Services (HHS) and Agriculture s (USDA) oversight of states efforts to automate eligibility determinations for the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), Medicaid, and Food Stamp programs. GAO found that: (1) Congress authorized HHS and USDA to pay most of states costs to acquire and operate automated eligibility determination systems to help them reduce errors and process applications faster; (2) the federal government has provided more than $950 million to states to develop and operate these systems; (3) although numerous federal laws and regulations require HHS and USDA to monitor states development of automated eligibility systems, neither agency has effectively monitored the states systems; (4) the agencies have conducted only limited reviews of states initial or updated system plans, have rarely conducted on-site reviews, and have not assessed key system development documents; (5) inadequate monitoring has allowed several states to develop costly integrated systems that did not work or did not meet the requirements; (6) although both HHS and USDA recognize that their monitoring needs improvement, the agencies cite their belief that they should not have a dominant oversight role and insufficient staffing as barriers to better monitoring; (7) HHS and USDA do not consider the assessment of states operational systems a high priority, even though the agencies do not know whether state systems are providing the projected benefits; and (8) neither agency knew whether states upgrades of automated systems produced the expected results.
